

Nisa

- Monogamous relationships were the of marriages, but lovers were common
- Parents turn a "blind eye" towards sexual actions of their children
- Openness about relationships are extremely common
- Women in the Sen society are not as degraded for having "relations" with more than one man.
- Arranged Marriages were the style of how people got married
- God was shown as sort of a menace to the Sen culture
- God, in this culture, is more about something to blame for some sort of problem or sadness.